

LOOK!

Calling all practitioners and parents!

Did you know that there is a fabulous NHS website that you can visit full of helpful information created by professionals surrounding Occupational Therapy, Physiotherapy and Speech & Language Therapy?

The website is full of helpful workshops, links to useful sites and information covering:

Speech and Language Therapy: Communication Aids, Autism, Bilingualism, Cleft Lip and Palate, Early Language and Communication, Feeding/Swallowing, Hearing Impairment, School Aged Language, Selective Mutism, Speech Sounds, Stammering and Voice.

Occupational Therapy: Dressing and Undressing, How to help your child learn new skills and have fun, Meal times, Movement and Coordination Skills, Pre-writing and writing, Sensory processing and strategies.

Physiotherapy: Being active, Co-ordination and gross motor movement development, Hypermobility, movement and co-ordination skills.

You can also refer children via The Pod, with more information and useful supporting documents available.

Give it a try, you might find something that can support your child!

<https://www.kentcht.nhs.uk/childrens-therapies-the-pod/>

